Student’s Perception Towards Values in Shaping One’s Personality and Growth

Dr. AV.V.S. Subbalakshmi 1, Dr.C.L.V. Sivakumar 2

1,2 VIT-AP University, Andhra Pradesh.

ABSTRACT

Every individual is involved in making hundreds of decisions every day. The decisions we make are a reflection of our values and beliefs. Our values motivate us to understand our roles in the society. Values reflect a person’s sense of right and wrong or what ought to be? They are tied to emotions, feelings and way of life. Personality is a mixture of a person’s physical characteristics, intellectual traits, deep-rooted values and beliefs and emotional state which makes who we are. The present paper is an effort to understand the student’s perception towards values in shaping their personality because values help to create the future we want to grow and develop.

Keywords: Decisions, Values, Personality, Growth.

Purpose and Objectives of the Study

The western values in the present society are seen to be constantly evolving and changing. The education system does seem to have a long history and is viewed totally broad and different by the man in common parlance. Many researchers have said that the re-emergence of ethical values in the field of education. Through this paper we as authors tend to say that most of the students lack knowledge about considering ethics as a science of discipline, which is why they are unable to contribute reasonable amount of participation to discuss ethical issues in the society.

We have found that character education is always found as a part of educational curriculum at schools but absent in colleges. It is widely recommended that ethical education at all levels of continuing and corporate education as well. Western education patterns do not look at a child as a wholesome human being, due to which the sacred ethical principles are absent. This conveys the universal applicability of the western style of education which are purely based on personal movements towards its development and moral inner culture.
Research Approach

To answer the prime research questions and objectives of the study, this methodology was developed utilizing a strategy making use of the literature with the responses acquired from the regional pilot survey. The literature included knowledge on the present scenario which validates the fact that ethics, virtues, and morals have been the source of wisdom over the generations. The essence rooted in ethical values has set the standards of a great legacy for future populations by many different researchers, philosophers, writers, and religious people. A fundamental learning effort has been made to know about the two components of education and ethical morals and virtues, character education. The discrepancies formed a strong base for this research development.

The survey form was developed and tested with a small sample of 50 college students. This study focused upon the importance and application of ethical values of college students. The students hold identity from various colleges and professional streams. The responses received through this survey were analyzed and developed into this article. The Conclusions and recommendations are spotted and presented from the findings of the survey.

Findings

- A firm realization and acceptance of the importance of Morals in human life

The virtues of our life hold incredible significance from the purpose of individual, social and otherworldly advancements. Qualities, ethics alongside morals are inseparably integrated over many decades. Qualities of morality are what we gain from youth; the 'weapons' we obtained from our folks and the surrounding ambience. Qualities are the rationale control behind all the deliberate activities of the daily routine.

Virtues are intended for making the mission to locate the higher self a simpler. Lamentably, many of us may think that it’s hard to pursue self-esteem, for example, honesty, genuineness, absolution in our lives since we have not seen the unobtrusive increases that come to us by following these qualities. Or on the other hand, we are imprudent to understand the significance of qualities throughout everyday life.

Morals, are again the means by which we proceed with, despite troublesome circumstances that test our ethical fiber. Morals are the code or standards on which one’s character depend. Morals and character are firmly related. Qualities are fundamental to morals create at an early age and can be instrumental to building character.
The nature of our lives is never controlled by the power of hereditary qualities or by the impact of its conditions; it is ought not to be estimated in material belongings or in the trappings of youth; it is not reliant on character or other social praises.

Unexpectedly, the inherent estimation of the lives we lead mirrors the quality of a solitary attribute: our own character. Though, ethics are the inherent convictions created from the worth frameworks of how we 'should' carry on in some random circumstance.

Virtues are the gauges of good and underhandedness, which oversee a person's conduct and decisions. Each religion recommends high moral models and qualities. However, couple of adherents pays any regard. We are going to amiss from genuine religion and concentrating more on outside ceremonies.

!Fig.1- Students perception of utility of values in different spheres of life.

Implications and Recommendations

- Understanding the role of Home Ambience in empowering values in the individual

Home is the principal school for the kid and guardians are the primary educators. They not just guide the youngster in its dynamic way yet additionally exhibit the proper conduct by their activities. The guardians with their direct and conduct set a model for the youngsters. Guardians on occasion demonstrate a great deal of worry for the youngsters and as opposed to amending they begin to spoil notwithstanding for their inappropriate conduct. It is really hindering for the development of the kid. Such guardians are extremely possessive. A portion of the guardians are excessively severe with their kids. They attempt to overwhelm their words.

They don't give the kid a chance to appreciate the ecstasy of his guiltlessness. They attempt to check him for whatever he does. Another class comprises of those guardians who are very little worried about their youngsters either because of absence of time or are not instructed enough to control their kids.

Whatever is the reason yet it unquestionably influences the tyke’s conduct. The guardian’s treatment of the youngsters ought to be to such an extent that it could deal with all viewpoints and could give firm direction without being excessively exacting.

Furthest points with respect to the guardians either lead to self-observer or oversensitive conduct or it might transform a tyke into prevailing or forceful individual. A kid mirrors the impression accumulated by him in the underlying phases of his life.

In the event that youngsters are not guided appropriately may transform into hazardous and complexed people. The youthful age wants to end up rich without endeavoring endeavors by venturing on a lift. This energy makes them penance anything, what to discuss esteems.

- A prompt analysis on the necessity for embedding morals, emphasizing and nurturing character education

Ethical quality is an arrangement of convictions about what is correct and great contrasted with what's going on or terrible. Moral advancement alludes to changes in good convictions as an individual becomes more seasoned and gains development. Moral convictions are identified with, yet not indistinguishable with, moral conduct: it is conceivable to realize the best activity, however not really do it.

Social shows may have an ethical component, yet they have an essentially useful reason. Expectedly, for instance, engine vehicles all keep to a similar side of the road (to one side in the United States, to one side in Great Britain). The show takes into consideration smooth, mishap free progression of traffic.

In any case, following the show likewise has an ethical component, in light of the fact that a person who drives on the off-base side of the road can cause wounds or even demise. In this sense, picking the off-base side of the road isn't right ethically, however the decision is additionally whimsical.

An ethical quality of equity is about human rights—or all the more explicitly, about regard for reasonableness, unprejudiced nature, correspondence, and people's freedom.
An ethical quality of consideration, then again, is about human obligations—all the more explicitly, about thinking about others, appearing for people's needs, and relationship among people.

Fig. 2 – How students feel about taking opportunities as a part of ethical discipline in daily life.
Conclusive Notes

- A glimpse of perceptions that business and management students have on virtues

  Consciousness of the moral and good components of strategic approaches is ending up progressively subject of center from the scholarly world, government and the open alike. Dialog of the social obligation of the firm towards its condition: both the physical and the socio-social, is probably going to keep telling more noteworthy consideration. With the developing interest and discussion encompassing "Globalization", nobody can think little of or push aside the urgent job of the view of moral conduct of business and of practicing moral judgment. The issue isn't just the worry of business firms, however unquestionably more significantly, it draws into the image lawmakers, government authorities and different national and global partners and weight gatherings. Its qualities incorporate independence, personal circumstance, diligent work, and the longing for the happiness regarding material life.

- Are students really interested in themes related to morals and discipline?

  Initially, standards advance the points of research, for example, information, truth, and shirking of blunder. For instance, denials against manufacturing, distorting, or distorting research information advance reality and limit mistake. Second, since research much of the time incorporates a ton of support and coordination among different people in different requests and establishments, moral estimates advance the... characteristics that are essential to synergistic work, for instance, trust, obligation, basic respect, and respectability.

For example, various good guidelines in research, for instance, rules for creation, copyright and permitting approaches, data sharing courses of action, and characterization controls in companion overview, are proposed to guarantee ensured advancement interests while engaging participation. Most researchers need to get affirmation for their duties and would incline toward not to have their contemplations stolen or uncovered imprudently.

Third, a noteworthy number of the ethical guidelines help to ensure that experts can be viewed as mindful to general society. For instance, government courses of action on research offense, hostile conditions, the human subject’s protections, and animal consideration and use are fundamental in order to guarantee that masters who are financed by open money can be viewed as mindful to general society.

Fourth, moral standards in research likewise help to fabricate open help for research. Individuals are bound to support an exploration venture on the off chance that they can confide in the quality and uprightness of research.

At last, a considerable lot of the standards of research advance an assortment of other significant good and social qualities, for example, social duty, human rights, creature welfare, consistence with the law, and general well-being and security.

- High time to recognize the deteriorating scenario of moral education and take a call

  We are in a period where morals are perceived as significant and vital for a well-groomed society. It is likewise evident that while numerous individuals talk about morals, few truly comprehend its real significance. Such people are utilizing the word for controlling and befuddling individuals, political accuracy, and for covering their posteriors.

  The importance of moral qualities, ideals, and character qualities is all over the place and a few associations and foundations mean to upgrade its learning and in some cases its usage. The outcomes have been moderate yet the expanding number of associations dependent on winning and continuing standards and qualities despite the challenges tries the endeavors advantageous. At the point when understudies are cognizant just as their educators and teachers of what esteems they hold just as those held by others, it will be simpler to improve and understand circumstances of numerous types.

  The writing identified with morals, character, values, ethics and comparative topics is wide and applies to all areas of life and society. By and by, the requirement for understanding the significance of moral qualities, their significance, their advantages, their application, and the handiness that they offer to people, families, work, and society is as yet cloud to a great many people.
They have caught wind of morals yet they don't comprehend its real significance, importance, and results. This reality approved yet again the pressing requirement for research, particularly with undergrads, who legitimately or in a roundabout way, will be the pioneers in their various fields of fitness in the close and not so distant.

References